Message from Mr. Ohshiro

Finish Strong and Build a Foundation for 2026

With two months left in 2025, now is the time to plant the seeds for success in 2026. Evaluate your progress to date, support your teams, and establish a strong foundation for the future. The Enagic True Health philosophy of Healthy Body, Healthy Finance, and Healthy Mentality is at the center of it all.

We've long recognized that the goal isn't just personal achievement. Success also means helping others grow to achieve together. We can often look back and tie Enagic's success to my vision for True Health and other guiding principles: balance, gratitude, and shared purpose.

Ongoing campaigns like Momentum Rising, which awards 80 winners each week for distributors ranked 6A to 6A2-7, provide a little extra motivation. Sales contests can give us the added push we need to outperform previous results. Your actions today shape your achievements tomorrow.

I appreciate everyone's dedication this year. The last two months of 2025, November and December, provide opportunities to rise, to strengthen your rank, your team, and your impact. Finish strong and enter 2026 with confidence and clarity. The process involves celebrating effort, reinforcing teamwork, and inspiring consistent action. True leaders grow by lifting others.

As we approach 2026, remember that success belongs to those who prepare with passion and act with purpose. Lead your team with empathy, stay focused, and let's move forward together, stronger than ever, into the new year. Our business grows when we share, support, and serve.

Those who plan ahead walk the path of success. The road can be rigorous and is often filled with unexpected challenges, but support from team members and Kangen Water® will help.

Bee Lam

Change Your Life Story

6A2-5 Bee Lam “felt a bit lost” after leaving his “stable job” nearly two decades ago. In 2006, he started down a more independent path by founding a cleaning company, which Bee considers his “first step towards success.” Five years later, his income increased, but plateaued. Bee had to reach another level. He says, “With the continuous rise in the cost of living, I needed to find ways to improve my quality of life.” Bee’s prospects changed again when 6A2-4 Winnie Lo introduced him to Enagic.

Bee became an Independent Distributor in 2011. “Not everyone gets the chance to encounter good opportunities in life, and even when they do, not everyone seizes them,” he says. “Enagic’s business model has provided me with a great platform.”

Bee had no prior direct sales experience, but has made up for the knowledge deficit through dedication. “I have been working hard every day to understand the products, learn demonstrations, and absorb knowledge,” Bee says. “I am very fortunate to have reached the 6A level in just 10 short months, which reaffirms my belief that joining Enagic was the right decision. After 3 years and 8 months of effort, I finally reached the 6A2-3 level, reaching a peak in my life. However, as someone who constantly seeks breakthroughs, I always maintain a spirit of progress.”

Bee founded Dream Team H.K., a supportive distributor group that’s accomplished a great deal together. “The Dream Team has gradually grown and matured,” he says. “We established a brand-new team office and formed the Dream Team Committee. Through everyone’s collective efforts, we reached the 6A2-4 level in February 2016, and then achieved the 6A2-5 level in April 2017.”

“I sincerely thank Mr. Ohshiro and his wife Yaeko for establishing Enagic, a company that focuses on the principles of True Health: physical, financial, and mental well-being,” Bee says. “The CEO’s great selflessness and boundless dedication are qualities that everyone should learn from.”

Bee shared some key lessons with fellow distributors based on personal experiences:

- “Learning takes time, and there are no shortcuts.”
- “Demonstrations are crucial because visually showcasing the advantages and power of the products helps customers better understand.”
- “Increasing partners is essential.
- Learning how to interpret Enagic’s 8-point system is important; interpretation should be simple, focused, and confident.”
- “Learning how to lead a team is crucial. Multilevel marketing is not an individual business; direct selling is a team effort. Sustainability and explosive growth are achieved through teamwork. I recommend finding more partners as explosiveness comes from the team.”
- “Once you have a team, learning how to manage it is vital. A team is like a company and needs systematic operation.”

“In reality, the level of difficulty depends on your desire to change and improve your life,” Bee says. “Remember, mindset is the most crucial aspect.”

Bee has a personal goal of reaching 6A2-6 rank. He also plans to work closely with Dream Team H.K. to create more 6A leaders while expanding their global reach.

Distributor Profile

Yien Ling Ling

6A3-2

6A3-2 Yien Ling Ling never considered herself a salesperson and had no intention of venturing into business. Instead, Yien was simply inspired to share the positive experiences she and her mother had with their Leveluk K8 Kangen Water® ionizer with people in their lives.

“Little did I realize the meaningful commissions I could earn from just a few referrals,” Yien says. Mr. Chin SF and Ms. 6A6-4 Liesl Chin, the people who introduced Yien to Enagic, “persistently encouraged” her to explore Independent Distribution and attend in-person Enagic events. “After much hesitation, I attended my first Essential Kangen Workshop (EKW) at the end of 2018,” Yien says. “It was a transformative experience that brought clarity to my understanding of Enagic’s business model. It wasn’t just about selling products.”

Yien last worked as a skin health center manager. “While that job offered a stable income, it lacked fulfillment and often left me drained from long hours spent chasing extra revenue,” she says. “I remain grateful for that experience, as it honed my communication skills and taught me how to navigate various interactions.” She also gained the courage to “pursue a new chapter.”

Yien spent two months diligently preparing for the transition, studying essential Enagic materials and product demos, and committed to being a full-time Independent Distributor in 2019.

“After resigning, I welcomed several business partners,” Yien says. “I learned that when you have clarity, nothing can block your success. Your determination speaks volumes to potential partners, and the right connections always arrive at the right time.”

“Through humility and a commitment to continuous learning from both leaders and peers, I actively encouraged others to attend EKW’s, ensuring that every day became a learning opportunity,” Yien says. She achieved a 6A rank in her first year, a notable achievement. “This milestone was made even more meaningful by helping my team exceed their previous incomes and reach 6A together,” she says.

“Thanks to the unwavering support of my leaders, partners, and customers, I reached another milestone—6A2—in 2021,” Yien says. “The temptation to become complacent during the pandemic was real, a challenge many faced while working from home. Yet, our leaders inspired us to reignite our ambitions by attending leadership and awareness camps... As we entered 2025, our collective efforts culminated in achieving 6A3-2—a true testament to teamwork and perseverance.”

Throughout her Enagic journey, Yien has learned invaluable lessons that she’s happy to share:

1. “Clarity is the cornerstone of success.”
2. “Embrace humility and learn from everyone.”
3. “Innovate and adapt in business.”
4. “Lead by example.”
5. “Invest in self-development for lasting growth.”

“I am profoundly grateful to God for this opportunity to live a better life,” Yien says. “My deepest appreciation goes to our visionary founders, Mr. and Mrs. Ohshiro; to our exceptional Leaders— Ms. 6A13-7 Cynthia Briganti, Mr. 6A5-5 Bernard Chan, Mr. 6A8-6 Amos Sia, and Ms. 6A5-6 Cora Loh; and to my introducers, Chin and Liesl, for their unwavering support. I also want to thank the entire Enagic team and our incredible Enagic family. Your belief in me and our collaborative spirit have been instrumental in this journey. Together, we’ve nurtured a vibrant community that thrives on inspiration, growth, and success. Thank you for the remarkable energy you bring to our shared vision.”

The Relaxing Effect of Ukon on Blood Vessels

Several animal experiments have revealed that Ukon has a relaxation effect on blood vessels. A paper published in the Journal of Traditional and Complementary Medicine (Vol. 4, Issue 9, 2018) reported that Ukon induces a significant relaxation effect in the basilar arteries of pigs.

This study demonstrated that Ukon causes arterial relaxation in a manner independent of nitric oxide (NO) and endothelial cells. Possible mechanisms for vascular relaxation include partial activation of β -adrenergic receptors and inhibition of calcium (Ca^{2+}) influx both extracellularly and intracellularly.

Additionally, according to a paper published in the Journal of Biopharmaceutical Science (Vol. 26, Issue 8, 2003), Ukon was shown to have a vasorelaxant effect on the vascular smooth muscle of rat aortas.

The main active compounds in Ukon—curcumin, demethoxycurcumin, and bisdemethoxycurcumin—were confirmed to induce relaxation in rat pulmonary arteries independently of endothelial cells. These findings, although limited to animal studies, suggest that Ukon may promote vasodilation.

Note: Nitric oxide (NO) functions as a relaxation factor for vascular smooth muscle and inhibits platelet aggregation within blood vessels. Vasodilation refers to the widening of blood vessels, which leads to increased blood flow and reduced blood pressure.

Message from Ukon Factory

In June, Okinawa Kangen Foods set up an Ukon booth at Enagic's Global Convention in Chula Vista, California. We were delighted to welcome so many visitors during the event. Our entire staff was truly pleased to meet distributors from around the world in person at the booth.

Through the many comments, questions, and heartfelt messages we received, we gained valuable insights and inspiration. Hearing your voices directly gave us important awareness about the future direction of our support efforts.

Moving forward, we will not only continue sharing product knowledge but also strengthen our information outreach using various tools so that you can promote with confidence. We will also collaborate with branches worldwide to create an environment where all distributors can thrive.

Strengthening Compliance: Clear Policies and Upcoming Training

At Enagic, our unwavering commitment to ethical business practices and regulatory adherence remains the foundation of our global success. In the coming month, we will focus on ensuring that all distributors thoroughly understand and comply with our Policies and Procedures (P&P).

Recognizing that many of our distributors operate in multilingual environments, we are dedicated to presenting our policies clearly in an accessible and practical manner. By using straightforward explanations and concrete examples, our goal is to make compliance requirements easier to interpret and apply in daily operations. This approach will empower distributors to act with both confidence and integrity, reinforcing mutual trust and compliance alignment across our global network.

For instance, our P&P expressly prohibits the use of unapproved, misleading or exaggerated income claims. Statements suggesting or guaranteeing specific earnings - such as “Earn $10,000 a month effortlessly” - constitute policy violations and may result in investigation and disciplinary action, including potential suspension or termination of distributorship. By illustrating these compliance expectations through real-world scenarios, we aim to equip all distributors with the clarity they need to maintain full adherence.

We are also pleased to announce the forthcoming launch of our annual Compliance Training and Certification Program, scheduled for release in the coming months.

This program will acquaint you with the P&P, by providing practical guidance, interactive case examples, and knowledge assessments designed to strengthen distributor understanding and compliance execution.

For all distributors at the 6A rank and above, successful completion of the certification test will be a requirement to remain eligible for commissions and incentives. This measure underscores Enagic’s firm commitment to ethical leadership, accountability, and regulatory integrity. We strongly encourage all distributors to proactively prepare for this important initiative, as it plays a central role in upholding our shared values and sustaining a compliant, transparent business environment.

Please check for these topics and additional educational content as a continuing column in the coming months as we continue to build a stronger, more compliant distributor community. Thank you for your ongoing dedication to Enagic’s mission, standards, and reputation for integrity.
